

Internship Position

Creative Services/Graphic Design

Gain Experience

Do you want to build your skills in a professional environment with a regional government agency?

Internship requirements: Minimum second year student in digital graphic design or equivalent.

About LCOG

Lane Council of Governments (LCOG) is a voluntary association of local governments in Lane County, Oregon. The agency is a regional planning, coordination, program-development, and service-delivery organization. LCOG helps area cities, Lane County, educational districts, and special-purpose districts reach their common goals. The agency participates in a wide variety of projects and programs for local governments. LCOG serves 28 members including Lane County, 11 of the 12 cities within the county, and education, public utilities, and other special districts.

About Creative Services

Lane Council of Governments' Creative Services Team develops a wide variety of high-quality graphic material for federal, state, and local agencies; member agencies; LCOG staff; and other clients.

Professional services include:

- Graphic Design/Project Identity
- Document Design/Layout
- Presentation Graphics
- Website Design/Development
- Photography
- Writing/Editing and Proofreading

How to Apply

Please email your resumé, cover letter and work sample to:

Sarah Finney, Senior Designer
Creative Services

email: sfinney@lco.org

My experience interning at LCOG gave me a window into the inner workings of a Creative Services Department. Encountering real-world projects, deadlines, client meetings, and the buzzing creative office environment taught me far more in a short amount of time than I could have learned in a classroom. The hands-on approach, which characterizes LCOG's philosophy towards their interns, provided me with the tools, confidence, and skills necessary to successfully achieve goals.

- Maya Goldfine, School of Architecture and Allied Arts - Digital Arts graduate

